WHAT LEADERS SAY

Starr Sackstein is a passionate and engaging presenter. She exemplifies all that is right with education. Her message is clear: do what's best for kids by making learning fun, interactive, and relevant. She is the real deal and knows what education is truly all about.

— BRAD CURRIE, AUTHOR · ALL HANDS ON DECK, CORWIN PRESS

Working with Starr transformed how our teachers think about assessment. Students are genuinely more engaged in their own learning — and our grading practices are more equitable. The results spoke for themselves within one semester.

— DISTRICT CURRICULUM DIRECTOR, NEW YORK

Starr has an extraordinary ability to meet educators where they are. Our teachers left her workshop with practical strategies they used the very next day. She made grading reform feel achievable, not overwhelming.

— PRINCIPAL, LONG ISLAND, NEW YORK

Starr's coaching helped me completely rethink how I lead my department. She pushed my thinking in the best way — I finally have the language and framework to bring my team along on this journey.

— DEPARTMENT CHAIR, NEW JERSEY
